Fund Commentary

Market Commentary

August opened on a more optimistic note for markets, as weaker US labour market data supported expectations of easier Fed policy. Equities and US Treasuries initially rallied, with the latter also supported by the introduction of Bessent's "Treasury Twist"; the US Treasury will be buying back long-dated debt funding purchases with short-term debt.

However, momentum faded towards month-end. Renewed US-Iran tensions pushed Brent crude above $90pb, reviving inflation concerns just as attention turned to Jackson Hole. Fed Chair Warsh struck a distinctly hawkish tone, stressing that the Fed must remain focused on returning inflation sustainably to its 2% target and warning that policymakers had "work to do" if underlying inflation failed to improve sufficiently. He also challenged the assumption that policy was necessarily restrictive and resisted providing explicit forward guidance.

The 10-year US Treasury yield finished August broadly unchanged at 4.75%. Meanwhile, the S&P Index rose 2.62%, and the dollar closed 0.49% lower.

Portfolio Review

The Fund's QA USD Class gained 0.91% in August, led by longer-end, quasi-sovereign holdings in Mexico and Norway.

State-owned Pemex 2050s remained a strong performer, gaining 2.85% over the month, while Mexico's utility company CFE 2052, a sustainability-linked bond, returned 1.99%, amid strong institutional demand toward high-yielding, sovereign-backed debt. Both bonds remain attractive, offering yields of 8.7% and 7.4%, respectively.

Holdings in Norway's oil giant, Equinor 2050s, gained 1.70% over the month. Rated Aa2, the bond offers a yield and returns of ~8%, to fair value. A Green bond issued by Saudi's PIF, GACI 2053, also enjoyed gains. Rated Aa3, in-line with the sovereign, the bond trades ~5 credit notches cheap, at a yield of 6.6% and an expected capital return over 10% to fair value.

Currency position returns were mixed. While the Singapore dollar enjoyed a 1.03% gain, and the offshore renminbi returned +0.62%, the Swiss franc closed marginally lower and the Japanese yen returned -1.34%

Activity during the month was focused primarily on rebalancing.

Outlook

The current macroeconomic landscape presents a compelling entry point for active fixed income strategies focused on undervalued sovereign and quasi-sovereign debt. In the US relatively resilient consumer spending and private-sector activity reduce systemic default risks while real yields remain at multi-year highs. This provides an attractive backdrop for capturing market inefficiencies, particularly where state-owned energy majors trade at wider spreads than their sovereign counterparts, offering corporate-level yield premiums with implicit or explicit sovereign support.

Meanwhile, softer global growth and geopolitical tensions reinforce the appeal of wealthy sovereign-backed allocations. Slowing momentum across Europe and Asia is likely to limit long-end policy rates and support demand for liquid, high-yielding dollar assets. Elevated commodity prices also strengthen cash flows for state-backed energy companies, supporting credit fundamentals and potential capital appreciation. High single-digit carry provides a meaningful buffer against volatility and rising rates, while attractive valuations offer scope for capital appreciation as credit spreads normalise. This creates an attractive combination of income, downside resilience and potential capital gains across a range of market environments.

This marketing material has been approved in the UK by WH Ireland Limited, which is registered in England and Wales under company number 02002044, with its registered office at 16–18 Hatton Garden, London, EC1N 8AT. WH Ireland is a wholly owned subsidiary of TEAM plc. TEAM plc is incorporated in Jersey and listed on AIM. WH Ireland and the WH Ireland logo are registered trademarks. Distribution of this material and the offer of the Fund are specifically restricted in certain jurisdictions. In particular, but without limitation, neither this material nor shares in the Fund are available to US persons.

On 11th December 2025, the Fund merged with EPIC UCITS – Next Generation Global Bond Fund UI (the “Merging Sub-Fund”), a sub-fund of EPIC UCITS, a SICAV regulated in Luxembourg. An investment in the Fund is not suitable for an investor who cannot sustain a loss on their investment. There is no guarantee of the Fund's future performance and past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance. The value of your investment and the income derived from it can go down as well as up, and you may not get back the money you invested. The risks associated with making an investment in the Fund are described in the Prospectus and Supplement but investors should note, in particular, the following: 1) Foreign currency denominated investments are subject to fluctuations in exchange rates that could have a positive or an adverse effect on an investor's returns. There is also a risk that currency hedging transactions for one share class may in extreme cases adversely affect the net asset value of the other share classes within the same sub-fund since there is no legal segregation between share classes; 2) The Fund is subject to the risk of the insolvency of its counterparties; and 3) Emerging market securities are subject to greater social, political, regulatory, and currency risks than developed market securities. This may impact the liquidity and value of such securities and, consequently, the value of the Fund.
